If BurstNET® fails to meet it's 99.5% uptime guarantee, and it is not due to one of the exceptions below, credits will be made available to each client, upon request, on a case by case basis. BurstNET® does not credit a full month's service for minor downtime. This would not be financially healthy for BurstNET®, and in turn would only negatively affect the service level BurstNET® provides to you. "Partial refunds for partial downtime" is our standard policy. In extreme circumstances, BurstNET® may distribute full month credits, but this is dealt with on a case by case basis. Details on how credit amounts are calculated can be found below.

Exceptions: Customer shall not receive any credits under this SLA in connection with any failure or deficiency of the BurstNET® network caused by or associated with:

- Circumstances beyond reasonable control, including, without limitation, acts of any governmental body, war, insurrection, sabotage, embargo, "Acts of God" (ie...fire, flood, earthquake, tornado, etc...), strike or other labor disturbance, interruption of or delay in transportation, unavailability of or interruption or delay in telecommunications or third party services, failure of third party software or inability to obtain raw materials, supplies, or power used in or equipment needed for provision of the Service Level Agreement.
- Telco Failure (ie...a backhoe cutting a fiber line somewhere)
- Backbone peering point issues (ie...Level3™ having a router go down in Virginia that wipes out Internet service a portion of the entire East Coast)

- Scheduled maintenance for hardware/software upgrades
- Hardware failure (faulty hardware is rare, but cannot be predicted nor avoided). BurstNET® utilizes only name brand hardware of the highest quality and performance.
- Software bugs/flaws (Exploits and bugs may develop that cause security issues or downtime)
- DNS issues not within the direct control of BurstNET®
- Network floods, hacks, attacks from outside parties or individuals
- Failure or error of any BurstNET® monitoring or measurement system
- Weather which may affect performance of wireless access equipment performance.
- Client's acts or omissions, including without limitation, any negligence, willful misconduct, or use of BurstNET® service(s) in breach of BurstNET® Policy and Service Guidelines (AUP), by Client or others authorized by Client.

Connectivity: BurstNET's® goal is to make the BurstNET® network available to Clients, free of outages, as best possible. An "outage" is defined as an instance in which Client is unable to transmit and receive IP packets due to a BurstNET® service failure for more than 15 consecutive minutes, excluding service failures relating to BurstNET's® scheduled maintenance and upgrades. The BurstNET® network does not include client premises equipment or any Telco access facilities connecting Client's premises to such infrastructure. BurstNET's™ goal is to keep Average Round-Trip Latency on the BurstNET® network to 85 milliseconds or less. BurstNET® defines "Average Round-Trip Latency", with respect to a given month, as the average time required for round-trip packet transfers between the BurstNET® network and major US backbone peering points during such month, as measured by BurstNET®. BurstNET's® goal is to keep Average Packet Loss on the BurstNET® network to 1% or less. BurstNET® defines "Average Packet Loss", with respect to a given month, as the average percentage of IP packets transmitted on the BurstNET® network during such month that are not successfully delivered, as measured by BurstNET®.

Measurement: BurstNET® will periodically (on average every 5 minutes) monitor BurstNET® network and server availability using software and hardware components capable of measuring application traffic and responses. Client acknowledges that that such measurements may not measure the exact path traversed by Client's Internet connection, and that such measurements constitute measurements across the BurstNET® network but not other networks to which Client may connect. BurstNET® reserves the right to periodically change the measurement points and methodologies it uses without notice to Client. Full network and server reporting will be posted to a location designated by BurstNET® and made available to Client.

Hardware Failure: BurstNET® stands behind all equipment on our network. Faulty hardware is rare, but cannot be predicted nor avoided. BurstNET® utilizes only name brand hardware of the highest quality and performance. BurstNET® will replace all faulty hardware affecting performance levels of equipment within 48 hours, which includes hardware issues that cause server crashes or speed issues. Hardware failure resulting in complete network/server outage/downtime will be corrected within two hours of problem identification. Router failure is an exception to this SLA guarantee, and may require on-site Cisco™ engineers or backbone provider emergency personnel to correct the problem. Router failure is governed by current BurstNET® contracts with Cisco™ and backbone providers in regard to the emergency repair service in case of such an issue. Software re-installation and data replacement after server failure, will be completed with 10 hours of problem identification. BurstNET® will replace all faulty hardware on dedicated servers (rented or leased servers), at no charge to the Client, with an unlimited free replacement policy. This includes parts ordered as upgrades. BurstNET® will replace all faulty hardware on all non-purchased dedicated and wireless access customer premise equipment, at no charge to the Client, unless equipment has been tampered with, or damage is caused by direct neglect/action(s) of Client.

Credits: Credit requests must be made on the BurstNET® web site, by filling out the "Service Level Agreement (SLA) Request" form. Each request in connection with network/server outages/downtime must be received by BurstNET® within five days of the occurrence. Each request in connection with Average Round-Trip Latency or Average Packet Loss in a calendar month must be received by BurstNET® within five days after the end of such month. The total amount credited to a Client for BurstNET® not meeting SLA service levels will not exceed the service fees paid by Client BurstNET® for such services for the period in question. Each validly requested credit will be applied to a Client invoice within 30 days after BurstNET's® receipt of such request. Credits are exclusive of any applicable taxes charged to Client or collected by BurstNET®. Upon Client's request (in accordance with the procedure set forth below), BurstNET® will issue a credit to Client for network/server outages/downtime occurring during any calendar month that are reported by Client to BurstNET® and confirmed by BurstNET's® measurement reporting. Such credit will be equal to one day's worth (1/30th) of the monthly fees paid by Client, (for all service fees paid if network outage, or specific affected service fees paid if individual server downtime) multiplied by each hour (or portion thereof rounded to nearest next hour) of the cumulative duration of such outage/downtime. If Average Round-Trip Latency on the BurstNET® network for a calendar month exceeds 85 milliseconds, then upon Client's request, BurstNET® will issue a credit to Client equal to six day's worth (1/5th) of the monthly service fees paid by Client for such month. If Average Packet Loss exceeds 1% during a calendar month, then upon Client's request, BurstNET® will issue a credit to Client equal to five day's worth (1/5th) of the monthly service fees paid by Client for such month.

General: BurstNET® reserves the right to change or modify this SLA to benefit the Client, and will post changes to location currently housing this SLA at time of modification, which will be made available to Client. Except as set forth in this SLA, BurstNET® makes no claims regarding the availability or performance of the BurstNET® network or servers. Specific terms/points of this SLA may be adjusted on a case by case basis by the specific Service Agreement signed/agreed by client. In case of difference terms/points in SLA and Service Agreement, the Service Agreement terms/points prevail over this general SLA policy. The Service Agreement signed/agree client, is above and beyond this SLA, and Service Agreement terms are in affect, including, but not limited to, limitations of liability.

EXHIBIT D

Use of BurstNET® resources constitutes acceptance of all policies in effect at the time of use. Modification to this policy may be made at any time and will be immediately effective upon posted changes. BurstNET® reserves the right to protect its resources, users, and reputation from any activity deemed damaging, offensive or abusive. To this measure, BurstNET® will act as sole arbiter in determining violations of this policy.

Provision. Use of BurstNET® services indicates the acknowledgment that:

- Users are responsible for the security of accounts, systems, passwords, etc...and will not hold BurstNET® liable for any loss or damages caused by exploitation or any other misuse of BurstNET® resources.
- BurstNET® is not responsible for any damages, anticipated or otherwise, caused by viewing materials, links, or other content posted to systems on the local network or linked via this network. All users agree to indemnify BurstNET® from any claims resulting from any use of its services.
- Adult content is sanctioned by applicable local and federal governments/laws. Legal adult content is permitted on all BurstNET® product lines. The viewing, downloading, or possession of legal adult content by BurstNET® users and other Internet viewers, is not governed by BurstNET® policy, and is left to the discretion of individuals requesting this material.
- BurstNET® may monitor its network and audit systems for any data or activity indicating potential policy violations.
- BurstNET® reserves the right to remove any account without prior notice. If BurstNET® deactivates an account due to the direct or indirect participation of users engaging in illicit activities, any rights to a refund are forfeited by the client/reseller in control of the account at the time of the violation. Furthermore, no refunds for advance payments will be granted for deactivated accounts. Critical offenses and involvement in illegal activity will negate any perceived obligation of BurstNET® to return data.

Initial: _____ Date ____/____/____

Abusive Clientele: BurstNET® may, at its discretion, suspend or terminate the service of any client/reseller who is financially delinquent, abusive/harassing to BurstNET® personnel, or causes general disruption to the operation of the company and service of its users. Examples of such activity include, but are not limited to:

- verbal or written abuse of BurstNET® personnel (obscene language, threats, etc.)
- excessive complaints or persistent disregard for alerts, warnings, and/or notices
- repeated reactivation of abusive users
- consistent errors or administrative changes causing unnecessary workload
- spamming BurstNET® email addresses, ticket systems, and/or servers
- frequent late or bounced payments
- issuing chargebacks
- public harassment or derogatory/false/exaggerated forum/discussion group postings

Abuse of BurstNET® Systems and Resources: Any damaging or abusive activity, whether unlawful or considered to be detrimental to the operations of BurstNET® resources, is a violation of this policy. Any attempt to harm equipment owned by BurstNET®, or hosted in its facilities, is strictly prohibited. Violations will result in legal action, to the fullest allowable extent.

Illegal Usage Restrictions: Resources provided by BurstNET® may be used only for lawful purposes. Examples of unlawful content include, but are not limited to:

- unlicensed hosting of, linking to, or any involvement in the transmission of copyrighted media, applications, published works, or any data protected by trade secret, without sufficient rights to engage in this activity
- child pornography and/or kidnapping material
- content deemed to be terroristic in nature
- material posted to incite violence
- violations of human and animal rights, including the display of acts of cruelty and other abuse
- pyramid/ponzi schemes
- fraudulent sites and other forms of "phishing" (emails/forms/sites used to gather personal information from unsuspecting individuals)
- cracking programs and/or key generators
- violations of import/export restrictions

Prohibited Usage Restrictions: In addition to activities governed by law, BurstNET® strictly prohibits:

- IRC and associated applications (including bouncers, "bots", etc.)
- malware (malicious software) and/or botnets
- automation tools, auto typers, macros and bots used to circumvent restrictions on games or other applications (e.g. RuneScape bots)
- network and systems abuse scripts
- circumvention of and/or provision of instructions to circumvent security measures
- unnecessary port scans
- threatening, harassing, or obscene content
- anonymizers/proxies without password protection and sufficient logging (including open mail proxies, anonymous web surfing proxies)
- proxy detection scripts
- unsolicited and/or mass advertising via forums, blogs, comment forms, and newsgroups
- mail bombing, email address harvesting, and/or unsolicited email (including bulk mail sent to unconfirmed recipients and individual unsolicited advertisement or link exchange requests)
- HYIPs (high-yield investment programs)
- excessive overutilization of resource limits
- evasion of bans or blacklistings by changing domains/IPs

*** Links to unacceptable content are also prohibited.

Bulk Email & Blacklisting: BurstNET® understands that bulk email is an important mechanism for keeping people informed. However, spamming from the BurstNET® network, and spamvertising (unsolicited advertising of) sites hosted on the BurstNET® network, is prohibited. Legitimate bulk email meets the following criteria:

- ALL recipients have confirmed willingness to be added to a distribution list by clicking on confirmation links or (preferably) by responding to verification emails.
- Distributed messages include valid headers, removal instructions, and information on the method by which the subscribed addresses were obtained.

The usage of partially confirmed recipient lists is not allowed. All bulk email senders must post privacy policies and must be clearly identified to recipients during the subscription and confirmation process. The usage of third-party distribution lists is prohibited. If BurstNET® approaches a client for evidence of confirmation, the request must be honored within 48 hours of the initial spam alert. Deactivation of an account or service may be required, until proof of confirmation is provided and approved. BurstNET® reserves the right to require termination of any services involved in the transmission of unsolicited email. If any activities lead to blacklisting, the involved client/reseller may be charged an abuse fee of $100.00.

Policy Violations: Storage, presentation, or transmission of any material in violation of any laws, or otherwise prohibited by BurstNET®, is cause for temporary account deactivation, server/service termination, or complete cancellation of all account services. The BurstNET® Abuse Dept will make an attempt to contact the involved client via email when the first sign of a possible violation is noted. This notification may occur before or after a service is disabled. Alerts are provided as a courtesy. Prompt responses to alerts are required. When an alert is sent, the designated abuse contact is responsible for acknowledging his/her understanding of the offense and providing an adequate response, to the satisfaction of BurstNET®, within 24 hours of the notice. Failure to sufficiently respond to an abuse alert will lead to suspension of any active services involved in abusive activity and will result in a $50.00 fee. If reactivation is warranted, all abuse fees and any outstanding service fees must be paid prior to service being reactivated. Repeated abuse and/or failure to respond to abuse alerts will result in service termination.

Note: It is extremely important to ensure that the abuse email address on record is valid and monitored at all times. This is the address used for abuse notifications and warnings. The address may be set within the client management interface.

Direct clients/resellers are fully responsible for any activity found to originate from products and/or services under their care. In any case involving unauthorized parties utilizing a BurstNET® service for abuse, the direct client/reseller is responsible for locating and stopping all affected applications, until the source of the problem is found and removed. BurstNET® may opt to disable all services until the client can perform such an investigation or the system can be secured or reinstalled. If the support of BurstNET® is required for the investigation, the client agrees to compensate BurstNET® at a rate of $65 USD/hour for such service. Reinstallations are performed at a flat-rate of $25 USD (which does not include any operating system changes or licensing costs). Direct clients/resellers are responsible for maintaining secure systems. This includes, but is not limited to:

Initial: _____ Date ____/____/____

- requesting kernel updates
- applying application patches

BurstNET® will not be responsible for securing dedicated servers, virtual private servers, user accounts/web sites, or third-party applications. Direct clients/resellers with fully managed support services, may be entitled to a higher level of support than clientele with basic management. Further details may be found in the BurstNET® Managed Services Definition and Backup Policy.

Resource Usage: Resource usage should be maintained within levels outlined in product descriptions and/or service contracts. Abuse caused by users or unauthorized parties may increase resource usage and lead to overage fees. Overage fees apply to any service utilizing more than its assigned bandwidth allocation, except for services advertised/sold as "UNMETERED". Overages will be calculated based on overall amount of GigaBytes (GB) transferred in a monthly period, unless a service is sold based on Megabits per Second (MBPS). Services sold by MBPS, will be calculated via the industry standard 95% method, unless otherwise specified in the service agreement contract. MRTG or other bandwidth reports are available, upon request. Bandwidth is supplied from a shared pool and is not supplied as guaranteed/dedicated bandwidth, unless advertised as such specifically. BurstNET® usage of the UNMETERED service/port is permitted. However, a service that has heavy sustained usage may have its port capped and the client/reseller associated with the service may be required to upgrade to a dedicated service plan. UNMETERED service is supplied on a "best-effort" basis, which may result in some slowdowns during peak traffic periods. Should a client/reseller utilize or require large amounts of bandwidth, beyond the standard bandwidth allocation, BurstNET® may require a deposit.

Port Usage: Basic Dedicated & Co-Located servers are installed on 100MBPS unthrottled ports, unless service is sold with a specified port size (ie. 10MBPS UNMETERED) or specified/requested as a "capped" port. BurstNET® reserves the right to monitor network usage and throttle the available speed (if a service significantly exceeds average usage) to conserve network resources and to prevent any large billing anomalies. This will generally not include short spikes in usage, but will include, and not be limited to, sustained transfers of significantly larger than average amounts of bandwidth. If, at any time, a client's or reseller's data transfer rate affects other BurstNET® clientele, BurstNET® reserves the right to throttle and/or disconnect the service at the source of the problem.

Filtering: BurstNET® reserves the right to block, filter, or throttle ports and/or IP address ranges. For example, this may include blocking Port 6667 (IRC), denying access from a known spammer's IP address range, or limiting the speed of point-to-point file-sharing programs (Kazaa, Limewire, eDonkey, etc...). This may also include prioritization of certain traffic types, such as Voice-over-IP (VOIP) phone call transmissions.

Virtual Hosting: BurstNET® is pleased to offer unlimited traffic/hits and server usage to Virtual Hosting clientele. "Unlimited traffic/hits" refers to the number of visitors to a website and NOT the total amount of bandwidth/data transfer. Each Virtual Hosting account is still limited to the bandwidth/data transfer included with its associated service/package. To maintain the integrity of our service, the following usage may be limited/disallowed on Virtual Hosting service:

- banner, graphic, or CGI scripts running from the service and/or being utilized on other domains/websites
- large graphic or download archives/galleries
- large chat room gatherings

If you do not qualify for unlimited traffic/hits, your account may be required to be upgraded. To reduce the load on a server, BurstNET® reserves the right to relocate any site to a different server and/or IP address.

Virtual Private Servers (VPS): To maintain the integrity of BurstNET® services, any VPS (virtual private server) utilizing heavy amounts of system resources may be temporarily disabled. When necessary, clients/resellers may be required to upgrade the service package to accommodate actual usage. Additionally, to reduce the load on servers, BurstNET® may relocate virtual private server containers to different nodes and/or IP addresses.

Internet Access: BurstNET® does not allow multiple dial-in connections on a single dial-up access account. Multiple computers/networks are permitted to a single BurstNET® Internet Access service. Internet Access clientele are responsible for maintaining/securing their computer systems. Should any system become infected with a virus and/or spyware which causes or threatens harm to the BurstNET® network, BurstNET® may suspend service until the source of the problem is found and corrected.

Backup Service: To maintain the integrity of backup services, BurstNET® may relocate any backup service to a different server and/or IP address in an effort to reduce the load on the current hosting server. Download/FTP sites, web-serving (httpd), and/or any usage that results in heavy upstream/outgoing bandwidth consumption (beyond that of normal backup operations) is not permitted on the backup service machines. This service is meant for the backup/restore/sharing/storing of data and not for usage normally performed by web/database servers.

Idle Timeouts: BurstNET® may disconnect any idle connection to the network. Average timeouts are:

FTP - 300 seconds
 Dial-Up - 10-15 minutes
 Telnet/SSH - 2 hours

Special Terms and Conditions – 100TB Service:

- Service Limitation. This service is a special limited time offer by BurstNET®, and may be cancelled, modified, or withdrawn at any time, following 14 days notice emailed to the Client.
- Fair Usage Policy. The service is provided to the Client for normal, fair, and reasonable usage. Bandwidth usage is to be reasonably consistent throughout every month, without irregular bandwidth usage patterns/spikes. In the event BurstNET®, in its sole discretion, determines that the Client is not using the service according to this Fair Use Policy, BurstNET® will be entitled to: (a) impose limits on the speed of the data the Client may transmit and/or receive with this service; (b) adjust pricing of service to regular/standard bandwidth rates; and/or (c) suspend or terminate the service provided to the Client, at BurstNET®'s sole discretion.
- CDN or Media Streaming. Client shall not be entitled to use the service for the purpose of operating a Content Distribution Network (CDN) and/or Streaming Media service, except with BurstNET®'s prior written consent, which consent may be approved or denied at BurstNET®'s sole discretion. Special requests to use the service to run such, may be approved on a case-by-case basis, and we do recommend you contact us to discuss.
- Notice of Breach. Whenever reasonably possible, in the event of a Client breach of any Special Terms and Conditions for this service, BurstNET® will email the Client allowing 24 hours to cure the breach, before BurstNET® takes any action. If the breach re-occurs within the 30 days following, BurstNET® may take any action permitted in the Fair Usage Policy, without further notice to the Client. Failure to comply with this policy may result in termination of service, and a refund not granted.
